

Corrida de Lamborghini – pre event

Time is going fast lately, it's only a few days before one of the most important Lamborghini events in Europe is taking place on and around the Salzburgring in Austria ... but we still took the time to show a taste of things to come by putting three stunning Raging Bulls outside the world renowned restaurant of Chef Alfons Schubeck in Munich.

Naturally he proudly posed between these Italian made exotics, the stunning Lamborghini Gallardo LP560-4 Spyder took center stage between two Racing Bulls, needless to say these beauties drew a lot of attention while being parked outside the restaurant, a great opportunity to talk some more with the gathered members of the press that were invited to this small pre event get together we set up.

Afterward we moved the cars to an equally impressive site ... the Blancpain boutique, a place where our two Racing Bulls feel right at home, they even show some of these amazing watches proudly on the front hood.

People could get a quick glimpse on how exactly these magnificent manual watches are built while enjoying a nice glass of champagne and some small refreshments ... something that we will also do at the Corrida de Lamborghini event next weekend, we will have a Blancpain 'studio' where you can admire these pieces of art in the watch making world while enjoying even more refreshments by Chef Schubeck.

If you haven't already got your tickets you should hurry to our site www.corrida-de-lamborghini.com and get them before we run out, and while you are on the site, why not register with your very own Raging Bull and get a chance to drive your own Lamborghini on the famous Salzburgring circuit after an in depth briefing by one of our well known race drivers ... people that spend their professional life behind the wheel of these high power, super exotic race cars.

Make sure to visit us at the Corrida de Lamborghini on September 4. to 5. 2010
